INTERVIEW

With our ENGLISH TEACHER PETRA FOŠNARIČ

Why did you become a teacher and why do you like being one?

I fell in love with the English language through listening to rock music. This is the reason why I decided to study it but when choosing my career there were two options – becoming a translator or a teacher. The former seemed a bit lonely profession, so I decided to become a teacher so that I would be able to work with people, especially the youth.

Where did you study?

I studied at Faculty of Arts in Ljubljana and I've spent some time as an exchange student at Dartington College of Arts in England.

What would you be if you haven't become a teacher?

Perhaps an architect. As a matter of fact, I spent my first year as a student of Faculty of Architecture, but then I changed my mind.

What are your hobbies?

In my free time, I love scrapbooking and making cards for various occasions, playing with my dog, listening to music, watching films, reading etc.

What is your favourite sport?

I don't have a favourite sport, but I love watching all winter sports, tennis, athletics or handball. I don't like football at all.

Where do you live?

I live in Gorišnica, a lovely village about 13 km from Videm.

When is your birthday?

My birthday is in November.

What do you like the most about winter and why?

I like winter for several reasons. It's the holiday season and I love Christmas time, I like warm clothes; however, the best part of winter is when it's really cold outside with lots of snow and you can observe the beautiful scenery through the window holding a warm cup of coffee or tea in your hands.

What are your wishes for the future?

My wish for the future is simply to be happy and for my students to care, to dream and to always do their best.
